(Spoken Word)

With no mustache to twirl, I'm clearly not the villain of this picture. Am I the hero, though? I don't know. I just put in honest work and try to keep my head low. I'm no Mennonite; that simple life appeals to me because they're free to break a sweat with dignity. The gift of simplicity is theirs. Me? I prefer my creature comforts. Forward me your contacts 'cause I'm too sheepish to ask for numbers. Then I'll try to be as warm as summer next time we meet. I have my cheeks exposed for you to see the hue-man underneath This silent plea for sympathy signifies that I am not the enemy. Am I the hero, though? Probably no. Maybe a sidekick? Yes! I'm the slightly-more-than-average Joe who always plays supporting roles and may or may not die alone after final credits roll.
